As the Chicago Police vehicle got closer to him, the vehicle swerved toward [REDACTED] to influence him to move out the way. At that time, the passenger side mirror of the vehicle hit the left side of [REDACTED] body, which caused him to fall to the ground. [REDACTED] described himself to be in a push -- up position when he fell to the ground. The vehicle stopped briefly as if the officer inside the vehicle was making sure [REDACTED] was okay. Once the officer observed that [REDACTED] was fine, the vehicle immediately sped off without helping him.

[REDACTED] never saw the driver of the squad car. [REDACTED] was taken to Our Lady of Resurrection Hospital (Now known as Community First Hospital), by an ambulance. [REDACTED] sustained damage to his sciatic nerve to the left side of his body and scratches to his hands. intersection. [REDACTED] further reported that the drivers of the marked squad car failed to stop and identify themselves. The accused officers failed to render aid to [REDACTED]

VI. ANALYSIS

The burden of proof COPA must reach for a finding on each allegation is the preponderance of the evidence standard.

It is alleged that an Unidentified Officer(s): (1) struck [REDACTED] with a squad car; (2) failed to stop and identify themselves; and (3) failed to render aid to [REDACTED]

The evidence in this investigation did not reveal that [REDACTED] had contact with a Chicago Police Officer. [REDACTED] alleged that he was struck by a marked SUV Chicago Police vehicle. [REDACTED] was unable to describe the driver of the vehicle, and he could not provide a plate or outside number of the vehicle. The medical records from Community First Hospital do not support [REDACTED] allegations of being struck by a vehicle. [REDACTED] did not have any visible injuries, nor did he have any structural damage to his body. There were no police reports related to [REDACTED] having any contact with the Chicago Police Department. The GPS did not depict any Chicago Police vehicles at or near of the said location. There were no witnesses to support or refute any of the allegations made by [REDACTED] Therefore, COPA recommends a finding of Not Sustained for this investigation.
